

SEA T@ SUMMIT 20 years of innovation

Back in the Eighties, when a young Aussie climber called Roland Tyson was working in an outdoor store and most probably listening to the latest Madness LP, the shelves were full of day-glo pink Lycra climbing leggings, waterproof Nylon coats, full grain leather boots and heavy cotton canvas everything. Gore had just patented their revolutionary breathable membrane at the start of the decade and Polartec fleeces were slowly taking over from bulky woollen layers one purple patterned swirl at a time.

To say that the last three decades have seen significant advancements in technology (and thankfully fashion) would be an understatement. Today's outdoor enthusiast nearly needs a science degree to navigate through the space-age materials on offer, from Aerogel insulation in sleep pads to aircraft-alloy accessories – all of which have made adventures lighter, more compact and infinitely more comfortable.

But innovation doesn't just happen by itself. At Sea to Summit, we are proud to have contributed to this progress. Driven by his passion for the outdoors, Roland began sewing his own liners and stuff sacks from his Perth bedroom in the early 80s. This business gradually grew into Namche Bazaar, a company which caught the attention of fellow climber Tim Macartney-Snape. Having already summited Everest in 1984, Tim was about to set off on an unprecedented trek from India's Bay of Bengal to the roof of Everest, and he asked Roland to make some lightweight equipment that would survive the journey.

In 1990, Tim and Roland established Sea to Summit – named after Tim's successful expedition – as a company that would make use of their outdoor knowledge to create innovative, well-made outdoor equipment. Twenty years later, they are joined at the directors' campfire by June Tyson (Roland's mother) and Penny Sanderson (Roland's partner). Over 40 more people make up the extended family of employees that are all encouraged to bring to the business their passion for the outdoors, and the brand has become internationally recognised for its quality, innovation and design.

Sold in over 35 countries, Sea to Summit has been awarded industry design and business awards both in Australia and abroad. But gaining international recognition has not compromised the original ethos of the company. In 2010 – the 20th year anniversary – Sea to Summit will launch the unique TravellingLight® range, as well as potentially the world's lightest warmth-to-weight ratio sleeping bag. We also hope to paddle, climb, hike and ski to some great spots around the world, giving us not only great holidays but inspiration for more new products.

All of this has been made possible by the support of customers who have bought Sea to Summit product. We hope to return that support by continuing to make products which are unique, reliable and make your adventures that bit more enjoyable.

Never have we been more aware of the number of brands competing for shelf space, but Sea to Summit will remain a premium brand which represents innovation and quality. This is important to us because durability means less land fill and less demand for raw materials. Our commitment to the National Packaging Covenant, as well as other environmental programmes, is part of our ongoing awareness about how what we do affects the places and activities we love. For more information on these initiatives and our recyclable packaging, please visit our website.

Despite financial times being as fickle as some of those Eighties' fashion fads, outdoor people will always find an escape in the outdoors. To be part of this industry is a not only a privilege, it is a way of life. Long may it continue.

Sea to Summit proudly supports:

SEA T@ SUMMIT goes digital!

We thought it would be a good time to jump onboard with some technology set to define the next decade. Throughout the year, you will see a funny looking widget starting to appear on our packaging and promotional material. No, it is not a surrealist interpretation of the inner thoughts of our graphic designer, but rather a Microsoft® Tag specifically allocated to that product. Once you have downloaded the software from <http://gettag.mobi>, you can use any smartphone to take a picture of the tag. The phone will automatically navigate to a YouTube video of that product in use, making it a great educational tool for shop staff or customers.

Break out the phone and give it a go!

The Sea to Summit YouTube channel is available to anyone regardless of smartphone status. To view our constantly growing video library, simply go to - www.youtube.com/seatosummitTV

TravellingLight

Sea to Summit Introduces TravellingLight™

The Sea to Summit TravellingLight™ range is a lightweight and stylish solution to luggage organisation. This comprehensive line up of travel accessories provides a convenient way to separately pack clothes, shoes, toiletries, documents and other travel essentials without taking up precious space or tipping the scales towards a hefty airline excess luggage fee.

Whether motivated by the convenience of carry-on, the desire to avoid baggage fees or lost luggage, or simply wanting bags to be easier to manage upon arrival at the destination, travellers today want less weight and less bulk. This doesn't mean bringing less with you, it means using travel gear that weighs less and takes up less space. The new Sea to Summit TravellingLight™ range of travel products does just that.

Eighty percent of the products in the line weigh less than 85 grams!

Using premium Ultra-Sil® ripstop fabric, the range weighs significantly less than any other similar competing products, without compromising strength or durability.

Go Modular

The innovation of the TravellingLight™ line is not just the use of technical ultra-light materials, but the shapes and designs that fit the contours of modern soft-sided luggage whether its a carry-on, a rolling duffel or even a backpack. Packing becomes easier, going through security goes faster and everything is easy to find once you've reached your destination.

Towels

Sea to Summit makes three different versions of towels with our microfibre fabric.

Tek Towel – Is the most luxurious feeling towel on the market. This classic “terry towel” loop pile finish has the most surface area, and therefore is the most absorbent of our towels. For more compact towels, there is the Drylite and Pocket Towels in our range.

Drylite Towel – The ‘in-between’ towel, finished with a soft suede feel. The perfect travel towel...super soft and thirsty, but compact and quick drying. More compact than the Tek Towel, but more luxurious than the Pocket Towel.

Pocket Towel – The most compact towel in our range. Finished with a soft feel, this towel is woven to be super absorbent, and remarkably fast drying due to it being the lowest surface area of all our towels. For more absorbency you need to choose either the Drylite or Tek Towel.

Features

- A plastic press stud (snap lock) closure on the hang loop, which allows you to hang your towel around a railing to dry. It's made of plastic so that it doesn't rust, plus an added bonus is it's not cold when it touches your skin! The washing/care instructions are printed on the hang loop.
- Rounded corners give a much neater finish to the towel. It means also that the edges are finished in one continual sew length.
- Microfibre absorbs 5 times its weight in water.
- Made using a blend of 70% polyester and 30% nylon micro fibre. The addition of nylon gives a better hand-feel, as well as better absorbency.
- Microfibre towels are less prone to become stale if not dried immediately than cotton towels.

Ultra-Sil® Dry Sacks Ultra Light

Sea to Summit Ultra-Sil® Dry Sacks are a super light weight dry sack designed for use inside a pack. Made from Siliconised Cordura® for maximum durability, Ultra-Sil® Dry Sacks will keep your pack light and your gear bone dry!

- All Sea to Summit Dry Sacks use Hypalon® instead of webbing on the roll top closure. Hypalon does not wick water into the closure unlike webbing

- Roll top closure is precisely designed with a longer Polypropylene stiffener opposite the Hypalon®, which helps seal the closure flat, which further improves watertight seal and means that the roll top closure is less likely to unroll when under pressure

- All seams are top stitched, which keeps taped seams flat and even
- Ultra-Sil® Dry Sacks use Beamis Seam Tape, which is the highest quality available

- Ultra-Sil® Dry Sacks are constructed using Coats Brand threads, which are the global leader in threads and sewing products. We use a short stitch length to ensure a high degree of quality

- A custom designed shorter symmetric, side release buckle can be clipped together either way around, which also aids keeping the roll top closure secure

» Squash your gear down to one third and keep it dry! eVENT® fabric is totally waterproof and 'really' actually breathable (you can feel the air coming out!) allowing you to compress the air out and not allowing water in.

» Quote from a happy user: "I got one to use with a down sleeping bag; you can definitely feel the air come out. As a suspicious type, I filled it with towels and left it in a pond at home for a day to see if it leaked- I even weighed them before and after but there was no leakage/vapour transfer/mystery water ingress at all."

- » Watertight Hypalon® roll top closure
- » Waterproof seams, tape sealed and double stitched
- » Air compresses out, water cannot get in

Delta Series

with Protex™ base

The Delta Series by Sea to Summit is designed to be the ultimate expedition/ outdoor dinnerware. Our patented Protex™ hex pattern base reduces surface heat so food and drink are never too hot to handle. The food-grade, BPA-free Nylon 66 material has an incredible strength-to-weight ratio, it is impervious to odours and stains and it will not crack in extreme cold.

The Delta Bowl and the Delta Plate feature thumb grips with carabiner hang loops for storage and steep sides to make capturing the last morsel of food even easier. The Delta Mug and Delta Insulmug have hollow, cool-grip rims to provide an ergonomic hold option, creating a low profile and stable design without the need for a hard-to-pack handle. The Delta Insulmug uses an EVA ThermoSkin™ sleeve and dribble-proof sipper lid to keep hot drinks steaming. And finally, measurement increments feature inside all models for campsite culinary needs.
